CURATOR'S STATEMENT

"In the Balance" is a temporary outdoor exhibition of dynamic artworks that express a striving to regain balance with their surroundings, and to bridge the growing chasm between the loss of habitat and life's persistence. The acceleration of climate change has reached the point of overpowering and upsetting the carefully balanced ecosystems of our surviving forests. The ground beneath our feet is literally slipping away. This artwork responds accordingly. Sound pieces, installation, sculpture, and poetry suggest recombinations, contortions, and orientations toward a new hybrid, symbiotic and sympathetic relationship with nature. Taking inspiration from the forest's ability to regenerate itself over time, and the ability of the natural world to adapt under challenging conditions, how can we synchronize our existence with these restorative processes as we follow the path that lies before us? How do we live life in the balance?

ABOUT THE ART RAMBLE

The Art Ramble, a temporary annual outdoor public art installation co-hosted by The Umbrella Arts Center with the Concord Division of Natural Resources. It inspires a connection to and further exploration of the Hapgood Wright Town Forest, invites visitors to see themselves and/or place differently, and encourages the intersection of art, nature, and community.
